“This initiative enables us to expand our services and provide more opportunities to the children of those who make the supreme sacrifice,” co-chairmen of the foundation’s board of directors William Walters and Howard Lorber said in a joint statement.

Labour’s manifesto promises are written on water. Another danger with Labour manifestos is what is not written – massive deliberate immigration to undermine the very fabric of society was never, ever mentioned in any of their manifestos 1997-2010. Have no fear, should they ever get their hands on the levers of power again, the floodgates will be opened.

The ad argues that "economic research and real-life stories make clear that [a $15 minimum wage] would be devastating for less-skilled jobseekers around the country - including the 32% of young adults in New York City who want a job and can't get hired at the current minimum wage." The ad has a picture of a young black woman.
